Are You a Talker...Or Are You a Writer?

Maybe you like to communicate through writing, maybe through photography. We need your help with the Cheetah Chatter! Our newsletter editor has a student moving to Einstein next year, and we're looking for a few people to take on bits of our communication. Information collection takes about 2 hours each month. Compilation and editing is 3–4 hours per month. And as a bonus, most everything can be done in the evening, sitting at your computer. If you're interested in helping with either of these jobs as part of a team, please contact Mary Crandell at mary.crandell@gmail.com.

Principal's Letter

Dear Meridian Park Families,

Wow—have your children really been in school for 100 days? It has flown by! With just over one trimester to go in the school year, we still have a lot to accomplish and even more to celebrate! Teachers are working extremely hard to plan focused academic lessons and educational experiences for your children. They have taught intentional reading strategies lessons through a new supplemental curriculum called The Comprehension Toolkit. In numerous grade levels, students are practicing their math skills through online programs like IXL Math and XtraMath and our K–5 teachers are really mastering all of the components to the new math curriculum, EnVision Math by Pearson. Science projects are happening all around the school from exploring snails in Kindergarten to growing brassica in first grade and practicing with balance and motion in second grade! PTSA art docents are busy helping students to explore new artists and we will begin to prepare for our fantastic MP Arts Festival in mid-May! Before that begins, we welcome you to join us on March 15 at our Open House. Come see what your child has been working on in his or her classroom and also get some great deals at the Book Fair in the library!

During March, teachers will work on your child's next report card and send it home on March 30. Our 3–6 grade teachers will also start gearing up for the state assessment test (the MSP) that will happen right after Spring break. It is only 8 weeks away. As many of you know, all of our MP teachers meet as professional learning communities (PLCs) to talk about students' progress and to figure out individual plans for students in need additional support. We also use this time to talk about our academic and behavioral interventions and ways to adjust them to meet our students' needs. During these PLCs, we regularly use classroom-based assessments and district assessments to measure your child's progress and to discuss plans for any additional needs. The best part is that we also celebrate student strengths, improvement and growth on academic measures! Our teachers truly are fabulous.

Lastly, as you may have noticed in our packed Boomerangs last week, there are a lot of fun extra curricular activities and events happening for many Meridian Park students. This is an unusually busy month filled with events and we truly appreciate the extra support you give to enable your child to participate in these many after school events. The MP PTSA Drama performance of Peter Pan is on March 22 and 23 at the Shoreline Center Auditorium, the Elementary School's Honor Band performance is on March 28th at Einstein and the MP/RNCS band/orchestra concert is on March 29 at Meridian Park. From March–June, students will have the opportunity to join some exciting before and after school clubs such as board games, volleyball, soccer, tennis, Lego robotics, math games and so much more!

Life at Meridian Park is never boring and we are truly grateful to all of you for helping to bring such great experiences for our children at MP! This month, we also celebrate our fantastic classified staff and appreciate them for all of the hard work they do on behalf of our students. From para-educators to custodians to office staff, health care professionals, kitchen staff, childcare providers and more we are so lucky to have such dedicated people here at MP. We are very fortunate. Here's to a great last trimester of school for your child!

Don't Forget Your Coat!

The cold weather is still here! Please send your child with warm clothing for recess and outdoor play!

Before School Behavior & Supervision

We have noticed that students are arriving too early for school and are left unsupervised by the classroom doors and even in the library area. Please know that the first school bell rings at 9:05am. Students should not be at school before 9:00am without an adult supervising them. Please help us to enforce this policy.

The MSP is Just Around the Corner!

Attention 3rd–6th Grade Parents: State testing is around the corner! Please mark your calendars for the MSP (Measure of Student Progress) testing period of May 1–17 and stay tuned for more details coming soon about exact dates for tests. In the meantime, please avoid planning any absences, doctor's appointments or family trips during that time. Thank you so much for your attention to this! This year we will take two tests using the new online system—5th grade science and 6th grade math. We will practice this many times with demo tests so that students will be comfortable with this.

Friendship, Families and Feelings

In Mrs. Loes' classroom, where we are using the Roots of Empathy curriculum, I am regularly reminded of how helpful it is to think about children's temperamental traits: the inborn qualities with which we all enter the world. (Reminder: Roots of Empathy is the program that includes monthly visits to a classroom from a baby and his or her parent.)

In Mrs. Loes' room, baby Elyse and her mother Julie are our "teachers." Now that Elyse is eight months old, some of her temperament traits are becoming apparent. During her March visit, students noticed that she wiggled around a lot while she nursed. Julie told us that she is often active, which indicates that she may be on the "high" end of the temperamental trait called "Activity Level."

In school-aged children, those who have high Activity Levels will want to play something active after school. It might be harder for them to stay seated as much as school requires. Children who are lower on the Activity Level continuum might want to work quietly on a puzzle or read a book after school. Sitting at their desk will not be particularly challenging.

We also learned that Elyse eats and sleeps at regular times. She shows signs of having a high level of the temperament trait of "Rhythmicity." This trait indicates how predictable or unpredictable a baby's biological functions are.

For school-age children, the trait of Rhythmicity shows up in how easily a child creates and follows routines, and how well organized and predictable they are. Children with a lower level of predictability have a harder time organizing toys and schoolwork, being on time, and following routines.

Temperament traits do not have any judgment attached to them. They all have aspects to them that can make life easier or more difficult.

There are nine temperament traits in all, and in the next months, I will summarize all of them and suggest some related books for people who would like to learn more about this valuable concept.

Math & Science Textbook Adoptions Invitation for Parent Review

Shoreline Instruction Department would like to invite interested parents and community members to review the middle school math programs (grades 6–8) and the elementary school science programs (P–6) that we are considering for adoption. Materials will be available during the month of March, and are located in the Instruction Department of the Shoreline Center.

Interested reviewers should check in with Cathy Allred in the Instruction Department during regular business hours 8:00am–4:00pm. Reviewers will be expected to complete a survey for each program in math or science. If you have any questions, please contact Cathy Allred at 206-393-4211. We look forward to having community input on these very important decisions.

Enrollment Information for 2012–13 School Year

This week in the boomerang you will receive a blue form that must be filled out for each student, and returned to his or her teacher. This form will provide valuable information for class planning for the next school year. Most importantly we need to know of any student that will not be returning next year.

We also need to have new paperwork for all students that live out of district. We must have a release form signed by your home school district and returned to the office by April 6. The forms are available in the Meridian Park Office or at your home school district office.

Notes from the Music Room

a message from Shari Anderson, Music Teacher

Great things are happening in general music!

Our Meridian Park fifth grade classes attended the Arts in Education concert March 8, a gift given annually by the Seattle Symphony to 12,000 fifth grade students through the Puget Sound area, and saw a fabulous 14-year-old cellist play with the symphony. This was a beautiful, inspiring concert of symphonic music, including Benjamin Britten's "The Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra."

In other classes, sixth grade students are learning about compositional techniques, fourth grade has finished their second big recorder unit. Third grade is practicing new rhythms and learning about melody and harmony. Second grade is doing a unit with movement and singing inspired by Raymond Briggs award-winning picture book, "The Snowman." First grade is learning about rests and reading pitch. Kindergarten is experiencing changes in pitch and tempo in songs and music games.

Library Notes

a message from Jenny Hillger, Library Media Specialist

Scholastic Book Fair in Progress NOW!

Our fabulous book fair is in full swing this week. If you haven't already been to the book fair, then plan on joining us on Thursday evening during Open House. We will have a drawing for books in the library at 7:00pm for students who are present. Teachers have put up wish lists. There is an incredible selection of books for everyone. The book fair benefits Meridian Park students. We bring in guest authors and add to our library book collection. An enormous THANK YOU! to all of the volunteers who've made this book fair such a success.

Author Visit

Matthew Holm, co-creator of the enormously popular Babymouse and Squish graphic novel series, will visit MP students on Thursday, May 17. Plan to attend one of his assemblies and meet him. His visit is paid for in part with book fair profit, in part by a generous PTSA donation, and in part by a grant funded by the Shoreline Foundation.

Happy Reading!

Are You Keeping Track?

MP PTSA Read-A-Thon is Underway!

Tracking and Pledge Sheets are available on our Web site at www.meridianparkpts.org.

All funds go to benefit the Meridian Park PTSA. Readers can read aloud to others or be read to as well as reading on their own for credit. All reading counts!

Please help your kids to reach out to family members, neighbors, friends, your co-workers and others to seek pledges either in a flat amount or money per minute read!

If you have questions about the Read-A-Thon, please feel free to contact Melanie anytime at melaniegillespie@mac.com.

Have an Interest? Start A Club!

Some of the clubs that the PTSA offer are Sewing, Loom Knitting, Chess, Drama, Chinese, Spanish, and Art. All clubs must have a parent that works with the PTSA VP of Programs. If would like a program to continue here at MP, please consider being a parent leader for a club. It is not as hard as you think. You would not have to attend every club event, just help with coordination and registration. You could even find a friend and work together on a club that you are interested in.

If you have an idea for a club that you would like to see here at MP and you are willing to head it up. Please bring your proposal to the VP of Programs: Rachel Ariss arissfamily@yahoo.com.

Where Do Your Donations Go?

The MP PTSA offers cash grants to Meridian Park teachers for projects and supplies that help our kids succeed. Each month in the Cheetah Chatter, we will highlight projects funded directly with the money you and your family raise. Thank you for supporting your school!

Lycra Maze

Description: Partial funding will be provided to create a "Lycra Maze" to be used for all preschool children during therapy to provide an inherently motivating, multilevel indoor climbing structure. Students who will benefit from this equipment include ECE students as well as any Shoreline students who come to MP for Occupational or Physical Therapy. Students will be closely supervised while in the Lycra Maze. This Lycra Maze has been used in many local therapy settings, including both in schools and therapy centers, and has been very successful. Once created, this Lycra Maze will be used for years to come by future Early Childhood classes. The district's OT/PT department will provide the other half of the funds for this project.

Low-Level/High-Interest Chapter Books

Description: As part of our current fifth grade reading curriculum, we are teaching students how to find books at an appropriate reading level in a variety of genres. These books must include opportunities for growth in comprehension, vocabulary-building, exposure to many cultures, and introductions to new authors and series. The books will remain in fifth grade classroom libraries for the coming years and will also be available to families of our students, as students may borrow our books and take them home to read.

You Can Help, Too

Volunteers are needed to join the committee that reviews the grant applications and distributes the funds. This is a small time commitment (reading the applications and attending one meeting) that makes a tangible difference for our school. Contact Jodi Forschmiedt at jodi@jodiwrites.com to learn more.
